Journey to Freedom

Save Them Now

is a re-entry program for men returning to Ulster County from incarceration or long term drug treatment programs. Now in its third year, Save Them Now receives referrals from the NYS Division of Parole, the Ulster County Department of Social Services and Family of Woodstock. We have a track record of success, having helped more than 100 men find jobs and permanent housing upon their return to our county.

Your donation to Save Them Now, a New York State 501c3 charitable organization, would be very much appreciated and would help ensure our success.
